

THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

VOL. 7.

VICTORIA, VANCOUVER ISLAND, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1861.

NO. 14.

THE BRITISH COLONIST IS PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING,
(Sundays Excepted)
AT VICTORIA, V. I.

TERMS:
Per Annum, in advance, by Mail, $10.00
For Six Months, 6.00
Per Week, payable to the Carrier, 4.25
Single Copies, 10.

ADVERTISEMENTS inserted on the most reasonable terms.

THE WEEKLY COLONIST.
Is furnished to Subscribers for $6 a year; $4 for six months; $2.50 for three months; payable in advance.

NOTICE:
L. P. Fisher is our only authorized Agent for the collecting of advertisements, etc., in San Francisco.

AGENTS.
M. R. Mayer, N. Vancouver.
S. T. Tilley, New Westminster.
B. Bayley, Yide.
B. Brailley, Fort Alexander.
Robinson's Express, Similkameen.
M. Merritt, Fort Hope.
T. M. Loop, Lillooet.
T. Cooper, Port Douglas.
Capt. Peterson, Lytton City.
L. P. Fisher, San Francisco.
G. Street and F. Algar, London.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!
TO THE LADIES.

DIRECT FROM PARIS BY EXPRESS,
RECEIVED EX PACIFIC,

An invoice of fine

SILKS AND RIBBONS,
Which I will sell by the PIECE OR YARD, AT GREATLY REDUCED RATES.

The goods are of the very Latest Style and Pattern, And are the
FINEST EVER IMPORTED

To this market. Call and see for yourselves.
J. LEEFE,
Wharf street, opposite Southgate & Co's.
del 12 Im

For the Holidays!

MORRIS & MONET,
FRUITERERS
Opposite Mr. Harris' Brick Building,
GOVERNMENT STREET
Offer for Sale to Families and Hotels;

50 Island Turkeys;
25 dozen Chickens;
Ducks and Geese;
Island and Oregon Eggs.

—ALSO—

FRESH BUTTER, CITRON, CURRANTS, RAISINS AND LEMON PEEL.

del 17 Im

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

Gold & Silver Watches,
Ladies' Enamelled Watches, Diamonds, Bracelets,
Rings, Lockets, Brooches, Ear-Rings, Gold Studs,
Sleeve-Buttons, Quartz Jewelry, Gold-Chains, Ladies' Neck-Chains and Charms, Pencils, Silver Card-Cases,
A fine assortment for

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

At E. MARKS'
Yates street, next door to Hibben & Carswell

del 29 Im

Christmas Gifts.

JUST RECEIVED,
EX BARK "SCOTLAND,"

A beautiful assortment of

CHILDREN'S TOYS,
Of all descriptions, amongst which is an invoice of

MAGNIFICENT

Toy China Sets.

Call and examine them at

H. COHEN'S,
Yates street.

del 20 tja

E. H. VAENBERG,
Practical Watchmaker and Jeweler,

YATES STREET,

Opposite the Bank of British North America

HAVING ENGAGED THE SERVICES OF
H. CHUMBERG, a practical Chronometer and Watchmaker and Jeweler, I am now prepared to repair all articles in my line in superior style and at moderate charges.

A large stock of Ladies' and Gentlemen's Gold and Silver Watches, set with diamonds. Pins, Earrings, and Jewelry of every description always on hand.

Silver-Plated Ware,
Such as knives and forks, tea and table-spoons, solid silver goblets, knives and forks, &c.

del 20 Im

E. H. VAENBERG

For Sale,
The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE
Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

HOT

SPICED WINES AND RUSKS,

AT THE

STAR AND GARTER HOTEL,

Government Street.

ENGLISH ALE,

AT THE

STAR AND GARTER HOTEL.

FOR THE

HOLIDAYS!

EX RETRIEVER.

FAMILIES CAN DEPEND ON HAVING

the following articles:

JULES ROBIN'S BRANDY,
In 1 dozen cases.

PORT WINE,
In 1 dozen cases.

SHERRY WINE,
In 1 dozen cases.

CAMPBELL'S SCOTCH WHISKY.

ENGLISH ALE,
In 1 dozen cases.

ENGLISH PORTER,
In 1 dozen cases.

BEDS,

AT THE STAR AND GARTER HOTEL

del 28 Im

Christmas and New Year's.

Santa Claus is Coming!

FRENCH CONFECTIONERY,

TOYS,

AND FRUIT,

Direct from Paris by Express.

MADAME SANDRIE BEGS TO INFORM the public that she has just received, direct from Paris, a large assortment of French Confectionery of all kinds

FOR THE HOLIDAYS,

Consisting of cartons of Sucre de Pomme de Rouen;

Fancy Baskets, Candy Pouches,

Wooden and Papier Mache Boxes,

Corbeilles Garnies, Statuettes,

Pouches of Candy with Rosettes of lace, Artificial

Flowers and Fruit, and an assortment of Elegant French Toys.

MME. SANDRIE,

Opposite Trounce Alley and Government street.

del 17 Im

For the Holidays!

MORRIS & MONET,

FRUITERERS

Opposite Mr. Harris' Brick Building,

GOVERNMENT STREET

Offer for Sale to Families and Hotels;

50 Island Turkeys;

25 dozen Chickens;

Ducks and Geese;

Island and Oregon Eggs.

—ALSO—

FRESH BUTTER, CITRON, CURRANTS,

RAISINS AND LEMON PEEL.

del 17 Im

FOR THE

HOLIDAYS.

Gold & Silver Watches,

Ladies' Enamelled Watches, Diamonds, Bracelets,

Rings, Lockets, Brooches, Ear-Rings, Gold Studs,

Sleeve-Buttons, Quartz Jewelry, Gold-Chains, Ladies' Neck-Chains and Charms, Pencils, Silver Card-Cases,

A fine assortment for

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

At E. MARKS'

Yates street, next door to Hibben & Carswell

del 29 Im

Christmas Gifts.

JUST RECEIVED,

EX BARK "SCOTLAND,"

A beautiful assortment of

CHILDREN'S TOYS,

Of all descriptions, amongst which is an invoice of

MAGNIFICENT

Toy China Sets.

Call and examine them at

H. COHEN'S,

Yates street.

del 20 tja

E. H. VAENBERG

For Sale,
The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE

Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

For Sale,

The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE

Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

For Sale,

The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE

Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

For Sale,

The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE

Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

For Sale,

The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE

Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

For Sale,

The schr. "Nanaimo Packet,"

23 TONS REGISTER, WITH BOAT,

This vessel is in perfect order, having been thoroughly overhauled in June last. She will be sold low and on easy terms to responsible parties

EDGAR & ALICE

Wharf street, near Yates.

del 18 Im

For Sale,

The sch

THE BRITISH COLONIST

TO ADVERTISERS.

All advertisements, unless the time for which they are to be inserted is specified, will be continued until ordered out, and so charged.

Friday Morning, Dec. 27, 1861.

Registration of Voters.

We have before called public attention to the fact that the law requires the Sheriff to open a list for the registration of all duly qualified voters on the first of January, and keep the list open for fourteen days. Lest the country districts may not have full notice, owing to their distance from the town and for fear towns-folk may forget the notice till it is too late, we call attention to the fact again. In five days hence the list will be opened; and it becomes all who wish to inaugurate a better state of things in the country—by the election of better men to the Assembly than now fill the Government benches—to pay particular attention to the registration of their votes. The importance of registration is more apparent when we state that our parliament is a triennial one, that is, elected every three years. The writ summoning the election of the present Assembly was issued in December, 1859, and the three years will of course end in December 1862—next year. Consequently if the legislature is not dissolved before next December, it will cease then by act of limitation; and a new election in either case will have to take place. As no registration can take place after the 14th January next ensuing, the character of the next Assembly will depend entirely upon the votes registered at that time. In an Assembly such as ours, where it is numerically small, one member is as important to the Government or Opposition as fifty in the House of Commons. It becomes then necessary that the electors should be fifty times more vigilant here than in the United Kingdom in recording their votes so that no man shall be returned who does not fully and fairly represent the country, nor who is not a thorough Reformer. It is the votes of the electors, intelligently and wisely cast for good men and true, that will purify our unwholesome political atmosphere, and render the Assembly really a useful and independent body as a whole, and not a weak submissive Council, strong only in strengthening an already too strong Executive; and active chiefly in doing wrong.

Had the efforts of the Reformers to examine into the finances and departments of the colony been hearkened to by the Government shortly after the opening of the first session of this Assembly, the disgrace of three or four defalcations, which only tend to injure us abroad and at home, would in all probability have never occurred. Instead of waiting till 1862, to have the public accounts audited, they could have been audited early in 1860. If peculation had occurred, it would have consequently been detected at the start; and before it became so deeply seated in the constitution of the government party, as to render it doubly necessary to place a different man at the head of affairs than the one who purchased the Springs as a speculation. The country has had a surfeit from this fruitful source. It is sick, heartily sick of an administration so led; and as every step only gets worse and worse, it is high time to get rid of the primary cause of scandal after scandal, and sensation after sensation. Several constitutional modes could be adopted to effect this purpose. But the ordinary and usual one lying at the base of all the others, is the right vested in the electors to reject those who have incontestably proven themselves unfit for representatives by conduct—to put it mildly—such as we never before knew to occur in any country. To secure the exercise of the right, every qualified elector should be careful to register his vote in conformity with the requirements of the Registration Act, and keep a strict watch set to prevent any such juggling as passing off bonus voters.

Another reason why the electors should be prepared for the day of registration is the probability that the Government will try to administer a soothing draught to the town by incorporating it before the House is dissolved. As the first election for the town will be based on the list of voters qualified to return members to the Legislature, it constitutes a double reason why the town electors should not allow an opportunity to slip which if embraced would give them a voice in public affairs, and change the order of things that has become almost intolerable. Of one thing, however, the electors may be perfectly satisfied, that is, that a new election will take place in 1862; another thing is, that to vote at that election the votes have to be registered within the next three weeks.

COUGHS, BRONCHIAL COMPLAINTS, ETC.— Rev. D. P. Livermore, editor of the Chicago New Covenant, says of Brown's Bronchial Troches: "We have frequently had occasion to test the efficacy of Brown's Bronchial Troches, and have invariably found them to answer the purpose for which they are recommended. From our own personal experience and observation, we know them to be a superior remedy for colds, coughs and bronchial complaints."

Note.—We publish the above statement as reading matter, because we have confidence in the Troches, having tried them frequently, and always with success.—Cincinnati Christian Herald.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A U C T I O N,

THIS DAY,

FRIDAY, Dec. 27th, 1861.

At 11 o'clock, A. M.

AT HIS SALESROOM ON WHARF STREET, FOOT OF YATES STREET,

GROCERIES

TO CLOSE INVOICES:

10 cases Pie Fruits, 10 cases English Starch,
5 boxes English Soap, 9 kegs Irish Butter,
40 boxes Adamantine Candles, 1 cask Hams,
3 cases Bacon, 20 kegs Syrup, 20 bbls Molasses.

—ALSO—

Boots, Shoes, Clothing.

Heavy full-nailed Kip Brogans;

Heavy Bridled Brogans;

Cassimere and Satinet Pants;

Heavy Monkey Jackets;

White and Colored Shirts;

Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Etc., Etc.

—ALSO—

5 Gold Watches, guaranteed.

J. A. McCREA,
de27 Auctioneer

Dance-Houses Again!

After reading the insertion of the Rev. Dr. Evans in this paper, I feel myself bound to give a last answer in defence of myself and of the character of these houses. The Rev. Dr., as a clergymen is by no means to blame in trying his best to suppress all feelings in favor of them. He would be perfectly justified in writing and using his influence against the most decent balls or against any worldly amusement that might attribute to turn the minds of the people from piety. I however hope to be excused for stating that I do not clearly see the reason why he is only contesting against these dance-houses, and not, for instance, against drinking houses or against the very act of men keeping a cloothe-man. Is it because, according to his statement, his residence is near one of them? I allow that a noisy neighborhood is not very desirable. In many a big town the inhabitants, no matter who they are, have no means to submit to noise at night. Here, however, the evil can easily be remedied by the taking of about a dozen. Rev. Dr. might succeed in having the cause of his disturbance removed to some other place, if he could do it just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and not, I suppose, in time in town I did not know that this measure had been taken before), but as long as they are in or near town, it is just. Certainly it would not be necessary to leave the town of pestilence." Does not the fact show that yesterday, when no theatre nor dance-houses were open, more inebriate men were parading the streets than in preceding days? The excuse that it was a holiday can hardly be accepted, for there are many men in town now for whom at present every day is a holiday. Is dancing worse than to get beastly drunk? Then why should not the authorities be tried to have dance-houses, liquor-shops and theatre shut up all at the same time. If this attempt should be crowned by success, then indeed the town would become quiet. I can have nothing to say in favor of the seances or against the being ordered entirely out of town after dark (and

